

POLICE HAD NO CHANCE AT THEM

Immigration Department Is Blamed for Presence of Italian Criminals.

SIX OUT OF 50 DEPORTED

OPINION OF POLICE COMMISSIONER BINGHAM.

New York, Feb. 22.—That New York is a dumping ground for the criminals of Europe and that the immigration authorities are to blame for this fact is the opinion of Police Commissioner Bingham, expressed in an interview.

"We have had records of fifty Italian criminals," said Commissioner Bingham, "which would exclude from this country, or once here, should bring about their deportation. Out of these fifty only six have been deported, notwithstanding the fact that the police have been ready to furnish the immigration department at all times with information to keep out and send out of the country these habitual criminals."

An Habitual Criminal.

"About a year ago we learned there was in New York an Italian who had been an habitual criminal in Europe. We had his record and he was the most undesirable sort of a citizen. He had killed a negro in a highway robbery; had served several terms in prison, one of six years for robbery, and in every way had demonstrated his habitual viciousness."

"The police made a search for this man and learned where he was living. On Dec. 3, 1907, we heard there was a warrant out for his arrest at the instance of the United States department of commerce and labor. He was arrested, admitted his identity to the police, and further admitted that he had served at least one term in an European prison. He was sent to Ellis Island and turned over to the proper officers there. We believed him to have been deported until recently, when we found that he was still in New York."

One Instance Out of Many.

"Lawrence O. Murray, assistant commissioner of the department of commerce and labor, has informed us that the Italian denied his identity. This man, capable of any crime, was released without the police being even notified and without us getting an opportunity to prove that he was an fit subject for deportation. This instance is only one of many that might be cited."

REMINDER OF THE "GOOD OLD DAYS"

Attempt to Derail Missouri Pacific Passenger Train Near Sedalia.

EXTRA FREIGHT DITCHED

SPOT MADE FAMOUS BY THE JAMES BOYS.

Sedalia, Mo., Feb. 22.—An attempt to derail an eastbound fast passenger train on the Missouri Pacific railroad, evidently for the purpose of robbery, was made at Ottaville, twenty miles east of here, at midnight last night, a rail having been removed. The bad place in the track was struck by an extra freight train from St. Louis, which was wrecked, the engineer, fireman and brakeman being seriously injured.

The train that the wreckers evidently sought to catch left Kansas City at 9:10 last night for St. Louis. It was known as No. 4, and is supposed to carry considerable money.

The wreckers had built a fire between the tracks to bring the passenger train to a standstill. The freight crew failed to notice the fire until close upon it, and too late to stop. The freight engine and seven cars were derailed and badly demolished.

Missouri Pacific officials here say that they have no clue to the would-be robbers.

Scene of Jesse James Exploit.

On almost the exact spot where last night's attempt was made to rob the train on the top of Ottaville hill, the famous Jesse James and Younger gang of robbers more than thirty years ago laid up a Missouri Pacific train and secured $17,000. The robbery in which the James and Younger boys took part was conducted on the night of July 8, 1876, and was one of the most daring and successful robberies in the history of crimes. While some of the gang held up the passengers, others fired volleys at the train through the train to intimidate the passengers and crew. Jesse James swung aboard the express car, while the Youngers held the engineer and fireman submissive. The terrified express messenger unlocked his strong box and yielded over $17,000. No one was injured in the hold-up, but the robbers made good their escape and none of the money was ever recovered.

FLAGS MARK THE SUMMIT

Steel Uprights Reach Eleventh Story of Newhouse Buildings—Heavy Load Snaps Cable.

The men at work on the Newhouse buildings celebrated Washington's birthday yesterday by putting in place steel uprights reaching from the ninth to the eleventh story of the two buildings and flying from the tops of them American flags. All of the steel framework of the structure up to the tenth floor has been put in place and several uprights reaching to the top of the building were raised yesterday. In two weeks it is expected that the entire steel framework of the new buildings will be completed. Work has been begun on the brick and stone superstructure of the buildings and is progressing rapidly. By the time the iron workers have completed the framework of the buildings the brick and stone masons will be well above the second floor of the buildings. The work is progressing so favorably that the contractors feel assured that the two big office buildings will be ready for occupancy by next fall.

While the men were at work on the buildings yesterday a cable on one of the derricks broke while the men were raising three huge steel girders. The steel beams were almost to the top of the building when the accident occurred, and were thrown by the ground with a terrific momentum by the breaking of the cable. Fortunately everyone easily escaped being struck by the girders, but before they struck the ground the girders struck an iron beam on the second floor of the building, twisting it out of shape. A crew of men removed this beam yesterday afternoon and replaced it with another.

LEADING WOMEN IN "EMBASSY BALL"

Lillian Stayer Palmquist.

Joy Whitbeck.

The "Embassy Ball," a four-act comedy, will be given at the Twentieth ward amusement hall on next Friday evening. The cast of the comedy will be entirely of home talent trained by C. E. Palmquist, who has the stage direction of the performance. The principal parts are to be taken by J. J. Elder, who will appear as George Fane, a young civil engineer, Miss Joy Whitbeck, who appears as the wife of Fane, and Lillian Stayer Palmquist, who is cast as Mrs. Merryweather, a young widow.

The scene of the first and second acts of the comedy is in Cloverdale, England, and the third and fourth acts in Naples. The opening scene is the home of the Fanes at Cloverdale and the second is the art studio of Rafael di Rivola, the villain in the comedy. This part is taken by L. G. Thayne. Rivola is an Italian artist in love with Mrs. Fane and who endeavors to induce her to elope with him.

GOVERNMENT IS IN READY FEAR

Outbreak of Some Kind Expected in Portugal at Any Time.

Lisbon, Feb. 22.—The greatest precautions are being observed in Lisbon to insure the maintenance of order. It is evident that the government fears an outbreak of some kind, but up to the present time no disturbances have been reported. The soldiers are being kept in their barracks. The Duke of Oporto, accompanied by a strong guard, makes frequent inspections of the various garrison posts. All the public buildings, including the Bank of Portugal, are occupied by heavy detachments of the municipal guard. The commerce of Lisbon reflects the secret uneasiness of the people.

Government in Fear.

El Seculo today says that King Manuel, Premier Ferreira, the civil governor of Lisbon and General Lopes, commander of the municipal garrison, had a long conference last night regarding the situation. This paper expresses the opinion that everything indicates that the government is in fear of armed revolutionary outbreaks.

The political situation in which the government finds itself today is extremely critical and there is much uneasiness as to the outcome.

Between Two Fires.

The government is fairly caught between two fires, the renewal of the popular agitation for increased liberties on the one hand and the reactionary conspiracy on the other, and it seems to be in a difficult position. A prominent politician who was involved with the reactionaries has been sent out of the country to the Azores. The government is considering a plan which includes the postponement of the general elections fixed for April and in their stead to summon the parliament that was dissolved last year.

The situation at Setubal is reported to be critical and the garrison there has been dispatched to that port.

LIVELY DEBATE IN LOWER HOUSE

Mr. Campbell answered by saying that his children attended a mixed school in Pittsburg, Kan., his home town.

"Would you worship with a negro?" Mr. Hefflin asked.

The reply of Mr. Campbell was that only last Sunday he had done so.

Pursuing his inquiries, Mr. Hefflin asked Mr. Campbell if he believed in intermarriages between the races.

"Where He Drew the Line."

"No, sir," shouted Mr. Campbell, and he said there was a vast difference between social equality and political equality.

"I would not permit my daughter to marry some white men," he exclaimed.

"Would you permit her to marry any colored man?" was the query of Mr. Beall of Texas.

Raising his voice to a high pitch, Mr. Campbell exclaimed:

"No, sir," and there was loud Republican applause when he added:

"But I would permit that colored man to have rights under this constitution."

The house was thrown into an uproar when Mr. Simms of Tennessee, after urging the members to get back to the railway bill, said:

"Let's thresh the negro question out later, even if we have to thresh each other out."

Playing Politics.

A charge by Mr. Hardwick of Georgia that the Republicans were "trying to play a little politics on the question," brought down upon him derisive laughter and hoots from that side of the chamber.

The treatment of the negro by the people of the south was condemned by Mr. Driscoll of New York, who said the southern members had got so bold they had come into the national house of representatives with an amendment for "Jim Crow" cars. He charged some of the Democrats with dodging the negro question and said that would live and vote so as to put them on record.

Mr. Burleson (Texas), on the other hand, asserted that if a secret vote could be had there would not be five votes against the amendment.

Debate on the question was brought to a close by Mr. Smith (Michigan) declaring that the amendment, if adopted, would drive the street railways into bankruptcy.

The amendment was defeated, 140 to 59.

PORTLAND NOT A GATEWAY NOW

Commerce Commission Enters a Ruling Cancelling Railway Tariffs.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—It was announced today that the interstate commerce commission has entered a ruling compelling the Union Pacific, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Chicago & Northwestern-Missouri Pacific, and other railroads to cancel all tariffs on file to the far northwest through Portland, Oregon, which have not been concurred in by the Northern Pacific. The order means that all one-way business from Chicago and contiguous points which has heretofore been routed to Seattle via Cranston, thence over the Oregon Short Line to Huntington, from there over the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company to Portland, and thence to Seattle over the Northern Pacific, must hereafter be routed by way of St. Paul or over the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy through Billings, Montana.

Long in Dispute.

The Portland gateway has long been a point of dispute between the Northern Pacific and its southern competitors. The Northern Pacific has always refused to participate in a sale of tickets to a schedule with the interstate commerce commission, stating that its through tariff included a local ticket purchased at Portland by the railway company and given to the passenger who traveled to Seattle. The southern railroads have long contended that this tariff was declared illegal by the commission and when its attention was called to similar schedules filed by other roads all were ordered canceled. It was held that all tariffs filed by a road must have the written concurrence of all other roads over which tickets are sold.

Elks, Attention.

The funeral of Brother William M. Elliott will be held from the club house Sunday afternoon (23d inst.) at 2 o'clock. All members of the order are requested to attend.

DEPRESSION IN LITTLE HIPPO

Nationalization of Railways the Prime Cause of Japan's Troubles.

Tokio, Feb. 22.—One of the conditions under which the present Saito ministry succeeded the late Katsura administration at the close of the great struggle with Russia was that it should carry into effect the policy of railway nationalization formulated during the Katsura regime. The pledge thus given was duly fulfilled, and the undertaking constitutes at the present moment not the least of the many difficult financial and economic problems with which the rulers of Japan are confronted. The result, direct or indirect, of the war.

Has Not Helped Matters.

Government control has not thus far worked to the betterment of transportation. On the contrary, the congestion of goods at different stations is described as unprecedented, and only a few weeks ago the head of an important foreign firm took several weeks to forward their consignment, either by land or water, from Osaka to Tokyo, a distance of slightly more than 50 miles. The estimates have been declared that the terrible summer floods and storms, which destroyed many of the roads and embankments, disorganized the work of the department of communications and the railway bureau will be remedied.

Since the adoption of the principle of the nationalization of the railways, the government has had to revise, and the amount in bonds now to be appropriated for this purpose is believed to be about $90,000,000 in round figures. The yen is worth approximately 50 cents.

BROKERS GASPED WHEN THEY WERE SENTENCED

Pittsburg, Feb. 22.—Convicted of embezzling 400 shares of capital stock of the American Sewer Pipe company, valued at $12,000, entrusted to their care, E. D. Gartner and A. J. The severity of the sentence caused a gasp of surprise from the spectators and the prisoners were dumbfounded.

CALLED TO HIS ETERNAL REST

Right Rev. Henry Yates Saterlee, Bishop of Washington, Dead.

NOTED RELIGIOUS WRITER

ONCE CARRIED A PETITION TO THE CZAR OF RUSSIA.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Right Rev. Henry Yates Saterlee, D. D., for the past twelve years Protestant Episcopal bishop of Washington, died at his residence here today. He was 65 years of age. Although threatened with the grip last Sunday morning, he was thought to be recovering, but pneumonia developed and for several days his condition caused concern. He passed away shortly before 8 o'clock this morning. Bishop Saterlee was formerly rector of Calvary church in New York, was a religious writer of note, and had been elected but declined to accept the bishopric of Michigan and the bishop coadjutorship of Ohio.

Funeral Next Tuesday.

The funeral probably will be at the pro-cathedral church here next Tuesday. The illness which resulted in the bishop's death is attributed to an experience in New York harbor when a transfer boat on which he was a passenger on his return from Providence to Washington a week ago Thursday night was detained in the fog on East river for seven hours. The last communion was administered to him shortly before his death. He gave to the celebrant his episcopal blessing, and murmured the "sanctus" as he was dying.

Bishop Saterlee was a native of New York, and was related to some of the oldest families of that state, his maternal grandfather being Governor Joseph Yates. The Episcopal cathedral, in course of construction in the outskirts of this city, will be a monument to his memory.

It was he, who, twelve years ago, served as the bearer of a non-political petition to Emperor Nicholas II, entreating him to use his influence, in connection with other Christian powers, to put an end to the Armenian massacres. This petition was signed by the archbishop of Canterbury and other prelates, and represented probably 40,000,000 Christians. Mrs. Saterlee, formerly Miss Jane Churchill of New York, and a daughter survive the bishop.

Colonel E. M. Brannick.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 22.—Colonel E. M. Brannick, one of the best known business men in the northwest, died today from the effects of a fall from a railroad car at Conell, Wash., two weeks ago. Mr. Brannick enlisted as drummer boy in the Sixty-ninth Iowa volunteers, and served throughout the civil war. Mr. Brannick was vice president and general manager for Studebaker Bros. in the northwest at the time of his death. He was 64 years of age.

Dr. Maurice M. Dodge.

Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 22.—Dr. Maurice M. Dodge, aged 66, a graduate of Ann Arbor and Hahnemann, died this morning of paralysis. He leaves a widow and one son, Louis N. Dodge, professor of music at Northwestern university, Chicago. Dr. Dodge served as surgeon of the Fortieth Wisconsin infantry in the civil war.

GOOD TIME FOR THE SAILORS

Officers and Men of the Fleet Enjoying Themselves at Lima.

Lima, Feb. 22.—The national salute was fired from the assembled American warships in Callao harbor at noon today in honor of the birth of George Washington.

The salute was answered by eight Peruvian ships of war in port.

The American jacks and marines are enjoying their shore leave in Callao and Lima as only sailors can and their excellent behavior is commented upon on all sides. Early this morning the launches from the fleet began bringing in men to the Callao docks in large numbers and the visitors scattered quickly to the surrounding points of interest. Many of them came up to Lima, some by train and some by trolley.

Exemplary Conduct.

No less than 2,000 men went ashore yesterday and their conduct was universally admired. More than 2,000 are expected to come ashore today. The centers of attraction in Callao are the Japanese shops and the fruit stands and these industries report record-breaking business. The men are enjoying themselves thoroughly and are spending their money freely.

Yesterday a number of officers from the warships visited the Union and the National clubs in Lima and were given a warm welcome. A Peruvian composer, Caesar Paniso, has written a step called the "White Squadron." It is dedicated to Rear Admiral Evans and his officers and already has become very popular.

Baseball Game.

Nines from the fleet are going to play baseball in the ball ring today and as the people are eager to witness the contest there will be a big crowd. Captain J. M. Boyer of the Illinois and fifteen officers from the fleet are to be entertained at dinner at Lima tonight by the head of the local branch of W. R. Grace & Co.
